PLEA FOR PROTECTION

Facts in the Late Cibicu Indian

Trouble

LAID BEFORE GENERAL MILES.

The Secretary of the Interior and Delegate

A. S. Murphy—Arrest of Offending

Indians Demanded.

GLOBE, ARIZ., Jan. 29, 1896.

Sir: I beg to lay before you the facts in the late trouble between the Sheriff's posse and Indians on Cibicu creek, on the White Mountain reservation, and subsequent futile attempts to secure the arrest of the offending

Indians:

At the October (1895) term of the District Court of Gila county, two

White Mountain Indians, C 24 and O 8, were indicted for burglary committed at the Vosburgh ranch, in the vicinity of Pleasant valley. The warrant of arrest was, by order of the Court, issued and delivered to Deputy Sheriff E. L. Benbrook, who summoned to his assistance Frank Ketcherside, William Voris and Huse Kyle. The posse arrived at Cooley's camp, on Cibicu creek, about an hour before sundown on the 5th day of December, 1895. The purpose of their visit was explained, through an interpreter, to the chief then in authority. The chief consented to the arrest of the two Indians for whom the posse held a warrant. C 24 was identified and placed under arrest, and the officers had started to ride away with the prisoner when Deputy Ketcherside recognized O 8, the other Indian wanted, among the forty or fifty Indians in the camp; the officers then rode back and placed him under arrest.

At this juncture Captain Jack, an interpreter, rode up and said they could not take the Indians away.

The officers, when they realized the futility of attempting to take the two Indians, tried to get away peacefully, intending to go to Fort Apache and ask assistance of the military; and after riding about one-half mile another Indian, known as Loco Jim, hailed the officers and asked what they wanted with the two Indians.

The Indians, bent on mischief, began to gather in around the officers. Chief Nan-tan-go-tayz approached Deputy Ketcherside and attempted to grab his they were met by John Dazin and his band of Indians, armed and mounted, who asked permission of Lieutenant Fenton to accompany him to fight the whites, and were disappointed when informed by the Lieutenant that he was not out for the purpose of fighting the whites. Proceedings were instituted before United States District Court

Commissioner Kinney at Globe, December 12, and warrants issued for the arrest of the Indians, to the number of twenty or more, who fired on Deputy Sheriff Benbrook and posse, December 5, on Cibicu creek. The warrants were placed in my hands as Deputy United States Marshal, and I, in company with Messrs. Benbrook, Ketcherside, Voris and Kyle, left that afternoon for San Carlos, where we overtook Lieutenant Fenton's command and proceeded with the troops to Fort Apache, with the view of enlisting the aid of the military to secure the arrest of all the Indians for whom warrants had been issued.

Upon our arrival at Fort Apache we found that nearly all the cavalry troops were absent from the post, and after remaining several days, seeing that it would be impossible to apprehend

been issued, we reluctantly returned to Globe, after obtaining a promise from Lieutenant Rivers, acting Indian agent at Apache, that he would secure the arrest of the offending Indians and deliver them to me, at San Carlos, at as early a date as practicable.

We arrived at Globe, December 21, and after waiting three weeks without receiving any word from the authorities at Fort Apache and San Carlos, relative to the fulfillment of the promise made to surrender the Indians to the civil officers, I telegraphed to Lieutenant Rivers, the acting Indian agent at Fort Apache, and wrote and telegraphed to Acting Indian Agent Myer, at San Carlos, requesting information in regard to the matter, and when the Indians wanted would be turned over to me, in accordance with promise. To my several telegrams and letters I have received no satisfaction, not even a reply, and at this date, January 29, the acting Indian agents on the White

The mining department, since the death of the late Mr. Howell, is under the direction of Mr. Clawson. There are about 300 miners at work on day and night shifts. The Czar shaft, where the main hoisting works are established and where the ore is all brought to the surface, is down 400 feet; drifts have been made at each 100-foot level in several directions, and rails are laid to the several ore beds, so that now the tracks are about forty-five miles in length. One drift runs back under the mountain about one mile. There are about 800 tons of ore raised every twenty-four hours. The shaft at the Holbrook is down to the 500-foot level. There are hoisting works there also, but nothing but the waste is raised there. The ore between the drifts is obtained by putting in stopes, and the miners work upward and dump the ore below, where it is conveyed through a chute to the cars that carry it to the central shaft.

The treatment of ore is under the direction of Lewis Williams. Four smelters are running day and night, which reduces between 700 and 800 tons of ore daily into what is called matte. It contains from 40 to 50 per cent pure metal. This is broken into small pieces and run through another smelter, where it is melted and run into the Bessemer converters, where everything except the metal is burned up and blown
